The Ministry of Health of Uganda and the PSRT will sign a Memorandum of Understanding to mark the launch of a partnership to strengthen systems for health security in Uganda. Both parties have been working together to develop and launch a pilot to address several of Uganda's critical areas of need in health security as identified by its Joint External Evaluation. The partnership will serve as a model to demonstrate how the PSRT and other non-governmental partners can work with countries under the Global Health Security Agenda to advance shared goals to better prevent, detect and respond to health threats.
