Dear Madam,

Pandemic fatigue: reinvigorating the public to prevent COVID-19

I would like to invite you to participate in a virtual meeting on Monday, 5 October (9:30–11:00 CEST) to discuss the important topic of pandemic fatigue and ways to reinvigorate the public to prevent COVID-19.

This high-level virtual meeting is being convened to facilitate an exchange of views among Member States on the emerging challenge of pandemic fatigue amongst the public and the mitigation measures that can be put in place to counter it. The WHO Regional Office for Europe will also be presenting a draft policy framework to guide the discussion.

As with previous meetings in this format, we will invite several Member States to share their experiences. We will also be joined by colleagues from WHO headquarters, subject experts and colleagues from the European Commission, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control (ECDC) and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) to ensure a broad overview of key considerations and perspectives on the topic.

The virtual meeting will be held in English, and Russian interpretation will be provided. Please find the background documents for the meeting attached.

I would appreciate if you could share this invitation with your country's chief medical officers, director-generals of health, and whomever you deem appropriate and interested in the topic. Please notify us of your participation by writing to euinsights@who.int.

Additional information and connection details will be provided to all registered participants in advance of the meeting.

I remain grateful for your continued support throughout this pandemic.

Yours very truly,

Dr Hans Henri P. Kluge
Regional Director
